

Fury In The Slaughterhouse, Breaking New Ground

the lord of sin appears courtesy of god in an asian shadowplay convincing the nuns to leave the hospitals while he was scattering his seed among the people the candles flickering in the light wind are fighting against the first rays of the rising sun

let us start
breaking new ground

a rich man is poor when a poor man is rich and a mouse can kill an elephant in a jungle where jesus is a moviestar that drove his porsche in the pool while the apostels had a drink too much in the local topless bar discussing armagedeon

faith and hope
enriched with sweet temptation we're eating the shadows
