Fury Of Five, Last Place

Feel the pain of the fast lane 4x Traveling at the speed of light Listen to the motor roar Heading down a dead end street With the foot put to the floor Not looking in the rear view There's not thoughts of turning back Gotta cross the finish line On this never ending track People only crash and burn

Driving for what other have Racing for the checkered flag Driving for what others have Engines cease and come in last place There's no brakes

It's a head on collision with nothingness loser!