

G-Eazy, Love Is Gone (ft. Drew Love, JAHMED)

it's hard to sleep these days the sound of all the screams keep me awake
love is gone /2x
bend until break
stand by and watch us all go up in flames
love is gone /2x

shit, the World is a flame We worry about materials and the simplest things when cops are killing people and cn't take the balem they get acquitted
then you wonder why all the people rage, stupid we all keep prying for peace praying for progress if you live in holls then you stay in the projects so folks won't listen if they think what I'm saying s conscious they's rather hear me turning up on some simpler topics so what's my place, am I outta line? then speaking what's going on and saying what's on my mind this shit is fucked up plus it's happening all the time my job, as a rapper is to entertain, we tryna shine I'm not no politician, but they listen to somebody informal all the kids gotta find out what's really important I got a platform and a voice and a stage to perform on music could be a good escape, but outside it's been storming

love is gone /2x
bend until break
stand by and watch us all go up in flames
love is gone /2x

As I sit in the studio, guess the thinking this if the statement's too crazy then should I finish this ot if my image is pretty, don't wanna blemish this or ever split up my fans reduce my relevance pay attention and understand what the promise is everything nor gravy, we can't pretend it is so I salute YG, fuck the president Cause he a fucking racist supported by white supremacists Fuck Donald, do beaks to just nobody benefits minorities and feminists, trans, and religiousness so a man's body more free than a women's is the anger is real, the riots are limitless and nothing gonna change till we killing off all the ignorance

love is gone /2x
bend until break
stand by and watch us all go up in flames
love is gone /2x
