

Gabrielle, No Big Deal

Maybe your guilt is making you feel you want to apologise.
But it's too late; it's your mistake.
Your time has now expired.

Save your concerns for someone else.
Don't ask me how I am.

You don't know how I feel.
How many times do I have to tell you that it's no big deal?
It's all right 'cause I'm fine.
Baby, you should know that I'm much stronger.
I'll survive.

Keep saying you're sorry: the same old story.
Excuses lame and tired.
You never knew me.
Took me for stupid.
The damage had been done.

Save your concerns for someone else.
Don't ask me how I am.

You don't know how I feel.
How many times do I have to tell you that it's no big deal?
It's all right 'cause I'm fine.
Baby, you should know that I'm much stronger.
I'll survive.

You won't get the satisfaction.
Won't see me breaking down.
I'm sick of all your stories,
And why you fool around,
Now you look for solace
You won't find it in these arms.
Because it's just too late baby,
By you I'm no longer charmed.
By you babe.

Save your concerns for someone else.
Don't ask me how I am.

You don't know how I feel.
How many times do I have to tell you that it's no big deal?
It's all right 'cause I'm fine.
Baby, don't you know that I'm much stronger, I'll survive?

It's all right 'cause I'm fine.
Just want to let you know.
Just want to let you know.
You don't know how I feel.
No big deal.
