This blue world

People searching for truth all say the same thing

Unwavering world

Like snow covering the street, it's extending inside of me

The world tinged with dim colors

Believe in loneliness

In this world,

I have seen many demons coming

Yet haven't once met a god...

If you don't throw away all your relationships when you must

That's a horoscope

Both kindness and cruelty

What is this moving thing?

Both in cowardice and rage

What in the world am I doing this for...

Inside of my memories, who do I faintly see...
