I want to meet you, i want to meet you more than anyone
I want to hold this hand one more time

I forgot it in this room again
I'm looking for my memento of you
If i close my eyes, even now, i feel like you're near
I knew, as if it were natural
We'd part ways someday

I want to meet you, i want to meet you more than anyone
Because i could never forget you
I can't see you, and it hurts me so much
But I want to hold this hand one more time

I fell in love the moment we first met, and without thinking i hugged you
While laughing at me, you called me silly and lightly kissed me...
Anyone would recognize certain love
In the midst of meetings and partings

I want to meet you, i want to meet you more than anyone
We first met under the starry sky
I want to tell you, even if my feelings aren't returned
My heart is still searching for you

I knew, as if it were natural
We'd part ways someday

I want to meet you, i want to meet you more than anyone
Because i could never forget you
If it's for you, yes, if it's for you...

I want to hold this hand one more time
Our always holden hands were warm
