&lt;/lyrics&gt;

hugging you with a stained red arm illuminated blue tears are given to the moon gazing at the scar cut in my chest &quot;won't return soon&quot; the night whispers

Well, i shut my eyes, it would be nice if i could lift a prayer
soon, your words are left behind because there is nothing

I stirred up god with a voice that cuts darkness
I scream and weep, I will end it all

My chest becomes silent, would be nice if I could hold on because unending peace of mind is here

It would be good to make up for my crimes and be born again because there is nothing left of you

soon, your words are left behind because there is nothing
