

Gainsae, Somber

The tear on your pasty white cheek
Leaves me watching
Waiting, wondering if I could
If I could forget to get you
When it's over I would
No I couldn't I won't

I don't wanna be abused by you
I don't wanna be missused
Open your eyes to it
I can feel this
I don't want to feel so used

The flicker of your smile lights your eyes
But the time it catches
Everything suffering the fate of many
If I could take a walk
I'd take a walk to the ending so I won't ever feel so used

It all seems so you
To be waiting
Taking every little thing
You can make it so empty...
...Sounding when it's spoken over white wine
But still so...I feel so....
