Galactic Cowboys, My School

My mind is like a video of memories, but I don't know if I'm crazy In the classroom I would pray I wouldn't have to read that day, I was lazy People thought but didn't say, I turn the page of red and gray...I'm bolder The golden boys who got the girls are going bald with no more curls, they're older Well, the moon is full tonight and I'm going back, tell me where you are tonight 'Cause I'm going back to my school, going back to my school

Teachers smirked but never knew what I had inside and when I'd grow I'd show them But I realized the other day it wouldn't matter what they'd say, I'd know when Well, the moon is full tonight and I'm going back, tell me where you are tonight 'Cause I'm going back to my school

You locked me up inside, my feelings I denied Well, the moon is full tonight and I'm going back, tell me where you are tonight 'Cause I'm going back to my school, going back to my school Tell me where you are, oh, tell me where you are tonight Oh, tell me where you are tonight?
