English (Original)

Sparks from the fire rise up to the sky

Higher and higher oh I want to fly

Out of the story this time I'll be free

Wake up for a moment from this dream of me

Just a legend cold words on a page

Lift up my eyes and I'm soaring away

On silver wings spread out to the sun

I'm leaving this city for the skies above.

O'er the ruins an ancient light

Never lost, never failing

Follow me on my path to the heights

Before the shadows fade into night

Running back but I'm out of time.

I could tell everything

Hear the words that fill my mind

How can I say she was mine
