

Game Over, Zelda, Hyrule's Angel (The Sleeping

Her skin, white as the cleanest snow
Eyes closed in tranquillity
Her heart is calm, her breathing slow
On the altar, sleeps for eternity

The Valiant will be their sacrifice
To breathe life into the cursed remains
And so, Dragmire shall arise
From ashes covered with blood stains

So maiden, tell us thy secret please
About the smile on your pale lips
"He's here!" she whispers now with ease
"Our future lies at his fingertips"

Chorus:
Your highness, will you ever awake?
Or will you sleep 'til the end of time?
We'll follow you through life and death
Forever faithful to the land of legends

You chosen one, bearer of Master Sword
An elven boy, Hyrule's own godsend
Pursued by the enchanted horde
They'll hunt the Triforce 'til the end

Go warrior, search for the golden land
Find Power, Courage and Wisdom
Don't fear, take Princess by the hand
Be brave, and save our kingdom

(Chorus)

"Link, be careful! May the Triforce be with you."
