

Gandalf, The Dragon

Higher - I wanna be on the top of the world Forever - I try to get higher than before How do we find the thruth? - by searching for solitude?
We sail away from our souls - as we run away from God

In my dream
you lie next to me
You are like poison
a divine, but deadly disease

The dragon
you are the fuel in my veins

I - I would love to hate you but the taste of death remains so sweet You are a deadly infection but someone always wants a trick or treat

When the beast has been awakened - it will stay awake forever you can't turn back the clock anymore
When it all gets too hard to handle - the dragon is there to heal but in the end a tear will run on my cheek

In my dream
you lie next to me
You are like poison

The dragon
you are the fuel in my veins
The dragon
why won't you leave my brains?
