

Ganggajang, The Way You Feel

(Callaghan/Bidstrup)

I believe in give and take, I believe in right and wrong
I believe that there will come a day, when its all in the way you feel.
Hear the masses call your name, just like they've always done.
When pressed for answers they invoke their Only One
But it's all in the way you feel

Yeah it's all in the way that you really feel
And that's how your fate is sealed
Well I don't know just what it is about you
That makes me want to lose my self-control
One of these days I'll find out all about you
Until that day the only way " is the way you feel.

Superstition and the voodoo world,
Seem to have left their mark on you.
But wearing all your fancy robes
Won't hide the fact that you don't know it's all in the way you feel

Yeah it's all in the way that you really feel
And that's how your fate is sealed
Well I don't know just what it is about you
That makes me want to lose my self-control
One of these days I'll find out all about you
Until that day the only way " is the way you feel.

I believe in history as the way to see the world
And seeing the atlas turn, one lesson we all should have learned
Is it's all in the way you feel
Cause who you do is what you get
And you won't get it if you ain't got it yet

Well I don't know just what it is about you
That makes me want to lose my self-control
One of these days I'll find out all about you
Until that day the only way " is the way you feel.
