

Gary Cherone, Yeah Yeah Yeah

Gonna tell you all a story
'Bout a boy, lost and lonely
Thought he was, the last and only
Lover left behind
Left it on a hope and prayer
Wish upon a star and stranger
Never thought he'd entertain
An angel in disguise

(Can I get a witness)
Can I get a witness
(Because I really can't believe this)
You'd have to see it to believe it
(Who would have guessed)
Oh yeah, yeah, yeah
(That she would say yeah)

I wasn't looking for nobody
Took me by surprise and then she Turned my world right upside down and
Knocked me off of my feet
Saw my life go flashing by
Flying high on a number nine
Someone saved my life tonight
Was blind but now I see

(Can I get a witness)
Can I get a witness
(Because I really can't believe this)
You'd have to see it to believe it
(Who would have guessed)
Oh yeah, yeah, yeah
(That she would say yeah)

I don't know where to begin
(It's only a matter of time)
She took my heart for a spin
(We put our hearts on the line)
When she invited me in,
(If she'd be willing to find)
Over my head
When she said yeah, yeah, yeah
