

Gary Lewis & The Playboys, Without A Word Of V

It's too late for me, but, buddy not for you,
Listen close and I'll tell you what you gotta do;
Don't believe her lies,
Or fall for her alibies,
Without a word of warning she'll break your heart.
She's gonna make you think that you're the only one,
But you'll wake and find that she was just having fun.
If things are like they were
Don't put all your trust in her.
Without a word of warning she'll break your heart.
At night you'll hear her calling you
And wanting you, and needing you by her side.
Your heart will say "Go follow her."
But watch it, sir; remember the nights I cried.
I give you this advice and it's for free,
Don't let her hurt you, buddy, like she hurt me.
She's lying from the start, she'll tear all your dreams apart.
Without a word of warning she'll break your heart.
