

Gary Stewart, Ten Years Of This

You'd never know by looking
We were ever more than strangers
But, we're celebrating ten years
Of wedded bliss

She made the rounds as usual
While, I sit here stoned, as usual
Lord, I can't believe we survived
Ten years of this!

Ten years together
A million nights alone
Whose mistake is it?
What do we blame it on?

If someone else would tell me
What I already know in my mind
I'm afraid I'd start talking
With my fists

But, I know.. I'm lieing
What ain't dead, by now is dying
What in hell kept us together
For ten years of this?

Ten years together
A million nights alone!
Whose mistake is it?
What do we blame it on?

Maybe you start cheating
Because you married so young
Whatever it is, I cain't go home

I know, I cain't take it
Too long, I've had to fake it
I just don't think we can make it

Through ten more years of this...!
