

Gates Of Ishtar, Battles To Come

When the night is here to stay
After daylight has faded away
On a path blacked by pain
I'm waiting for battles to come
When the moon is cold and pale
And the forest whispers my name
I'm cold but warmed by faith
That you'll join me, and...

Ride with me tonight
Guide me through the battles
With glory and pride
Stand by me tonight
Raise your sword and join me in battle with light

When we've slaughtered the fools of light
We shall tear down the portals of might
When their lies are dead, Destroyed
We shall build up our kingdom once more
When your sword no longer shines
And your armor is covered with blood
You'll be king until the day
When I call you to...
