Gavin DeGraw, Relative

A flashlight Isn't quite sunlight But any light at all seems bright When you're looking in the dark A wet Dream Isn't the real thing It isn't really anything But at least it makes a spark And all is relative, relative Everything is relative, yes it is

CHORUS It's all about the way we recieve it How much we believe it Depending on the life you lead, if you lead it Compare it to yourself Compared to someone else, you care And if you pick the threads in your closet, the cash in your wallet The color of the skin in your blood, and how you got it Compare it to yourself Compared to someone else, you care

Pre-made isn't quite home made But pre-made with a home name Is almost just the same Your girlfriend Isn't your best friend But any friend is best when You're freezing in the rain And all is relative, relative Everything is relative, yes it is

CHORUS

You're either underweight or you're unfit Underdressed or over zipped Too social or you're just too shy Too depressed or you're too high Night to day Day to night Rich to poor Black or white All is relative Everything is relative All is relative

All is relative Everything is relative Oh yeah, yeah, yeah Everything is relative

All is relative You care
