

Gavin Mikhail, Come Alive

I wish you could lose yourself sometimes and be
All the things that I remember from your history
I wish you could lessen your grip and let go
Of your life and all the things you know...

I will be the one to lead you
If you listen I will teach you
All the ways that I can make you come alive
I will be the one to take you
From the lies that almost break you
From the days and nights you wonder why
Just trust in me I'll make you come alive...

I wish you would stumble, trip, and fall on through
To that other someone speaking up inside of you
I wish you would take some time and just take care
Not to lose the person you find there...

I will be the one to lead you
If you listen I will teach you
All the ways that I can make you come alive
I will be the one to take you
From the lies that almost break you
From the days and nights you wonder why
Just trust in me I'll make you come alive...

What ever happened to the one I knew back then?
The way you'd fight for all of the things you thought were right and always said, "Just stand up tall for all that you believe in all the time and life will work out fine for you and me... you'll see..."

So I will be the one to take you
From the lies that couldn't break you
From the days and nights that passed you by
Just trust in me I'll make you come alive...

I will be the one to lead you
If you listen I will teach you
All the ways that I can make you come alive
I will be the one to take you
From the lies that almost break you
From the days and nights you wonder why
Just trust in me I'll make you come alive...
