

Gene Clark, I Really Don't Want To Know

How many arms have held you
And hated to let you go
How many, how many I wonder
But I really don't want to know

How many lips have kissed you
And set your heart a-glow
How many, how many I wonder
But I really don't want to know

So always make me wonder
Always make me guess
And be there if I ask you
Darling don't confess

Just let it remain your secret
Cause darling I love you so
How many, how many I wonder
But I really don't want to know
