

General Public, Faults & All

can't take my own advice your letter reached me the other day i like the way you got around to saying "don't screw it up and throw it away" said "it can be paradise or it can be hell we're always stuck somewhere inbetween we just bite it off, chew it up & spit it out not know what it's meant to mean well i say

yes times are tough
but there's something we could learn stop treating love
like a penny saved is a penny earned can't you see that...

i love you faults & all?
i love your faults, they make you more like you
i love you faults & all
i love you more than i think you think i do
'till hell freezes over let the sky turn red, let the sun turn blue, but
i love you faults & all
i love your faults, they make you you!

don't know quite what to think it's harder still knowing what to say when everytime I try to speak my mind my heart keeps getting in the way yes it can be paradise or it can be hell i've seen enough, yes that much is true i like the way i got to finding out the one i fell in love with was you

yes times are tough

can't you see that...?

i love your faults, they make you more like you
i love you faults & all
'till hell freezes over
i love your faults, they make you you!
i love you faults & all
'till hell freezes over
i love your faults they make you you!
