

Genesis, Sea Bee

Hey, Sea Bee
Fly through the waters of sadness that pull you away from me
Hey, Sea Bee
You'll freeze in the wind that gently is blowing you away from me

Fly to me quickly
Soften your cold wings
I'll find you comfort
You know you're gonna fall down, down, down
'Til you end up on the ground
You have no fun
You're on your own

Where you flying now in the sky?
Can you cast your eyes below?

Hey, Sea Bee
Raindrops are falling in the shadows where you were so close to me
Hey, Sea Bee
The beauty I saw has been wrenched from the seat of my sorrowed eyes

Swim home to me now
You can just make it
I know you like it
You know you're gonna fall down, down, down
'Til you end up on the ground
You're slipping now
You're on your own

Drifting higher in the sky
Disappearing from my sight

Hey, Sea Bee
Once in a while when you think of a friend that you left behind
Hey, Sea Bee
I can't forget you or the warmth that surrounded your gentle heart
