

Gengahr, Heroine

Closing in I know the path fated to an hourglass
I'll be worth her in the end swore I'd see that smile again
I've changed for the better now, there's metal in my hand

Even if I go to waste, all my blood evaporates
Bare a shield, cry your name
Drunk in love I'd feel no pain
I know she's breathing, there's a beating in her heart

Sure, you can be my heroine
All I ask is that you wake for me
Sure, you can be my heroine

Evil lies the wildness speaks an echo with a violent reach
Broken bones will heal again
But promises don't seem to end
I'm done speaking; I'm gonna shake you from your sleep

Sure, you can be my heroine
All I ask is that you wake for me
Sure, you can be my heroine
All I ask is that you wake for me

Sure, you can be my heroine
