

George, Breathe In Now

I see love and beauty all around,
I also see the sadness that's inbedded in your frown.
I wonder why you choose love to talk to those who surround,
I sense a fear of lifting heavy feet, higher than you want to,
I just want to believe your truth..

CORUS

Cause i only have one second, this minute today.
Can't press rewind and turn it back and call it now, ohhhh
And so this moment i just have to sing out loud,
I say i love i live and breathe in now, ohhhh
And say i live and breathe in now.

I move on holding on to what i'm worth,
It's time to let go of the motion, but the whole worlds against me,
Break free and show it;s not for time,
Time free in now, but now i know it's not all up to me,
I can count on another, so hold my guitar and be free
