

George Ducas, You're Only My Everything

I've tried moonlight and roses whispers and wine
To show you how I feel but I fall short each time
I guess there's only one way to say what I mean
You're only my everything
You're the one I think about everything I can't do without
Day and night every dream I dream of you
In my arms there can be no doubt my words are true
Can't you see what you mean to me you're only my everything
[guitar]
My heart slipped off my sleeve right into your hands
And I've shown I love you the best that I can
So I'll take my chances and what fate may bring Cause you're only my everything
You're the one I think about...
You're only my everything
