

George Harrison, All those years ago

I'm shouting all about love While they treated you like a dog When you were the one who had mad