

George Jones, The Blues Man

THE BLUES MAN

(George Jones - Ft Dolly Parton)

'80 Bocephus Music, BMI

Im just a singer a natural born guitar ringer kind of a clinger to sad old songs

Im not a walk-behinder Im a new note finder

But my name's a reminder of a blues man that's already gone

So I started drinkin' took some things that messed up my thinkin'

I was sure sinkin' when she came along

I was alone in the spot light not too much left in sight

She changed all that one night when she sang me this song

Hey baby I love you hey baby I need you

Hey baby you Don't got to prove to me you're some kind of macho of man

You've wasted so much of your life runnin' through the dark nights

Let me shine a little love light down on you blues man

I got so sick from speedin' all the things they said I was needing iff I was to keep on pleasing all of

Hey baby I do get tired of this traveling band

I'm up in my years now nights would be cold now

If you hadn't stuck it out with this blues man

I'm up in my years now nights would be so cold now

If she hadn't hung around with this blues man.
