

George Morgan, Eyes Of The World

We know this love that we're stealing is hopeless and we'll never win
Yeah you know and I know we're helpless so the eyes of the world can't come in Tonight we can dream of the future but we know tomorrow can't be
For now let's don't talk about her right now you belong to me

She doesn't know that she's keeping us apart
And she doesn't mean to break her heart
In the eyes of the people around us we would be committed a sin
But we need the love that surrounds us so the eyes of the world can't come in
