George Strait, If the whole world was a honky-ton of the whole world was a honky-tonk, And it revolved around an old jukebox, We'd tell our troubles to