

George Strait, What Did You Expect Me To Do

Sometimes I smile
When you stayed home for a while
What did you expect me to do

I always cried
Each time you tolled a lie
What did you expect me to do

Each time I forgave you
You grew bolder
And each time you hurt me
My heart grew colder
Sure I loved
But I found someone new
What did you expect me to do

Each time I forgave you
You grew bolder
And each time you hurt me
My heart grew colder
Sure I loved
But I found someone new
What did you expect me to do
