

George Thorogood, I Really Like Girls

Well, well

I really, really, really, really, really, really like girls
Yeah, I really, really, really, really, really, really like girls
I like girls
I like girls
I like girls
I like the way that they giggle,
when they walk up and ask you to dance
I like the way that they wiggle, wrapped up in the skin tight pants
They got style
They got smiles
They drive me wild!

Yeah, I really, really, really, really, really, really like girls
Yes, I really, really, really, really, really, really like girls!
I like them small
I like 'em tall
I like 'em all!
Now it don't bother me,
if a girl don't know how to cope
Because the things that they know, how to do can't be learned in a book!
They got smarts
They got hearts
They got my heart!

That's why I really, really, really, really, really, really like girls
Yeah, I really, really, really, really, really, really like girls!
I want 'em small
I want 'em tall
I want 'em all!
Every day in every way they're here to stay
They're really really neat
They're really sweet
They're real petite
I like girls!
