

George, Today

I ride the time, it unfolds a new day, another time, this world would fade away
To find true love, is like no other joy, our choice is here

Be happy for today, be happy for today

The passage won, could maim a loser's fate, the bombs will run, I wish love could have its day A heart that soars, above the worldly haze, has found the cure

Be happy for today, be happy for today
Be happy for today, be happy for today

Soldier of fortune, runs away, to take up arms against his brother When does this ever stop?
We're still in the playground except the toys are hurting us

You're waiting for it now
You're waiting for it now
Here it comes

So far to go, but we keep pushing on So far to go, but we keep moving on So far, keep moving on...
