

Gerald Levert, I Was Made To Love You

I recall when we first met along time ago
how could i forget
the way i felt
when i first layed eyes on you i remember saying to my friends there is my future wife and then i took the steps to meet someone who would change my life it had to be my des-es tiny

Cuz i was made to love you
my hands to touch you
my arms to hold you
my legs to stand
my time to spend
with you forever
my lips to kiss you
my time to spend
with you forever
our life together
made to love you

i remember our first date
our first arguments
our very first break up
and make up
that got us to this moment and every girlfriend
and every one night stand
every heart break
every heart ache
led me to ya
threw me to ya
it made me better
better suited for you
it had to be my destiny

I was made to love you
my time to spend
love you

it had to be my des-es tiny
