

Geri Halliwell, These boots are made for walking

You keep saying You got something for me Something you call love But confess You've been a mess