

Get Well Soon, People Magazine Front Cover

Wake up my dear, wake up
We've found a new industry
Investments will pay off the products, the truth
People will pay for the answers that we deliver
While their neighbour's lawns greener and the worlds in a mess.

Baby, we're heading for profit
We'll have no worries no more
We'll be the first of a move, and
We're reaching out for the stars, and
We'll be told the people are for you.

Now that we're rich and we own half of Asia
We'll use our money to change the world
Baby, we'll reinvent monarchy
We will rule the whole world
You will be king, and you'll be queen
Your profits are well, then
We'll be told the people are for you.

When we're alone, we are still the same
That we used to be when we were young.
And people will know that we've tricked them all
And that we still hide the truth under our bed
In our castle.
