

Ghost Dance, Cruel Light

Cruel light, golden dawn
Drew the line when you were born
And all that went before fails to make sense anymore

I see them cut and die, see the flowers bleed
I see the reason why but never the need

Cant you see
Your eyes filled with a strange desire
Cant you see were playing with fire

I wish Id never seen the world
Through eyes as clear as these
I wish I hadnt been the one to try and guarantee

A safe and easy way, as if I knew
A better place for me and you

Every breath you take dies inside of me
Like the past just blown away
Cant you see

A safe and easy way, I wish I knew
A better place for me and you

Cant you see
The wind blows and the flames grow higher
Cant you see were playing with fire

Cant you see
Your eyes filled with a strange desire
Cant you see were playing with fire
