

Ghoti Hook, Next To Me

When all the lights have left the room
Will you still stand next to me and softly say
"I love you anyway"?
My yesterdays are haunting me
Reminders of those moments
When I could not rely on feelings that would die

And will I listen
And watch you fade away?
Or can I wake up
And trust you when you say...

You've heard this sad story before
I'm not the first to have one
The pain they left behind
When reasons were so hard to find
You wait for me to let it go
But you won't wait forever
I know you've had enough
Understand that I am still trying

And will I listen
And watch you fade away?
Or can I wake up
And trust you when you say...

Fall on me
Remind my worries
That your words mean much more than my
Need to always feel this way
I want you here inside my fear
I want the love I lost in tears
I see your beauty, inside grace
I know I can't make this mistake

And will I listen
And watch you fade away?
Or can I wake up
And trust you when you say...
