

Ghoti Hook, Shrinky Dinks

Last night I laid in bed and thought about it all what was it that had made us fall I don't regret anything that I said to you the choice we made was something we already knew and I'm finding...

CHORUS:

Yesterday you know will never go away it's best to leave behind if we want to find ourselves some piece of mind

Yesterday was when we were happy for tomorrow there is hope but today is hard and lonely so it goes

I have to set what I want for us all aside without that it would be a lie I know inside now where I am that this is right from here on out it will be hard I can't deny and I'm finding...

(chorus)

And yes I am afraid, of what I can't foresee will you still be there? will you be the same, will those feeling change? these thoughts I cannot bear

Do you stop to think about a time when we were without doubt when love was something new and so unknown?

Can we call ourselves just friends cause why should this just have to end and do you know why I must be alone?
