

Gil, It Isn't Me

I live each day - wondering if it's just a phase
You say our love has really changed
Every step we take together
Seems to have no ground at all
I lift you up, you trip and fall

But if it's me who's really changed
Why does my heart just feel in pain?
These thoughts of you drive me insane

Chorus:

It isn't me who fakes the cries
It isn't me who says the lies
It isn't me who will not share your feelings

I don't know if I was wrong
Should I be weak, should I be strong
I wonder for so long
And when I try to ask you why
I see the guilt jump in your eyes
Then I remember all these lies

But if it's me who's really changed
Why does my heart just feel in pain?
These thoughts of you drive me insane

Chorus (repeat)
