Gillian Welch, No One Knows My Name

6. No One Knows My Name Oh my mother was just a girl, seventeen Oh my mother was just a girl, seventeen And my dad was passin through doing things a man will do Oh my mother was just a girl, seventeen Its a wonder that Im in this world at all Its a wonder that Im in this world at all And I have a life to claim though I really dont know my name Its a wonder that Im in this world at all Aint one soul in the whole world knows my name Aint one soul in the whole world knows my name But its written up in the sky and III see it by and by Aint one soul in the whole world knows my name Well I had a good mother and dad just the same Well I had a good mother and dad just the same And they took me to their rest and they surely stayed the test Well I had a good mother and dad just the same Aint one soul in the whole world knows my name Aint one soul in the whole world knows my name Just another baby born to a girl lost and lorn Aint one soul in the whole world knows my name Now and then theres a lonesome thought in my mind Now and then theres a lonesome thought in my mind And on the crowded street I see a strangers face that looks like me Now and then theres a lonesome thought in my mind Aint one soul in the whole world knows my name Aint one soul in the whole world knows my name But III see it by and by cause its written up in the sky Aint one soul in the whole world knows my name
