Gin Blossoms, Cajun Song

Well, she's leaving today I do know so far away I'm feeling so blue and it shows in every single way Once that girl she was mine for such a short time We used to spend every night now all I do is cry They say you can't miss something you've never had So tell me why Why I could feel so bad...
We used to walk down the path just like lovers do She'd hold my hand and we'd laugh I'd stare in her eyes they were blue Once that girl she was mine for such a short time We used to spend every night now all I do is cry They say you can't miss something that you've never had So tell me why Why I could feel so bad...