

Gin Blossoms, California Sun

just three days and im missing you more than i thought i would i missing you more than i like to say i'm hanging on a hope swinging from a rope it's all a shame
my biggest mistake was letting you get away

oh baby

california sun
so bright and beautiful, yea but that was yesterday
california sun
how'd you slip away
california sun

been about a week and i finally fall asleep as the sun comes in through the broken blinds laying all alone
sinking like stone
wish you were here
can't sleep you of my mind

california sun
california sun
how'd you slip away
california sun
umm ummm
california sun

im searching door to door sunset down to the shore where'd you disappear
i wonder were you go
i dont really want to know you can find me here
