

Gin Blossoms, Dream With You

Earlena lays in the dark all day
She waits for the sun to go down
And in her novel we appear
To change her moods around
Well she forgets you now
Well she forgets you now
And girls like that they own the world
They'll sell you what you need
On languid streets you search for her as you win her in your sleep
Well she leads you on
Well she leads you on
Dream with you
Well she could only dream with you
And the distance keeps her warm
Her letters talk of things she's seen
Her silence what she's learned
Reminisce and drink with them
To hasten her return
Well she forgets you now
Well she forgets you now
Well she forgets you now
Well she forgets you now
Dream with you
Well she could only
Dream with you
And the distance keeps her warm
Dream with you
Well she could only
Dream with you
And the distance keeps her warm
Dream with you
Dream with you
Dream with you
Dream with you
