Gin Blossoms, Dream With You

Earlena lays in the dark all day She waits for the sun to go down And in her novel we appear

To change her moods around Well she forgets you now

Well she forgets you now Well she forgets you now

And girls like that they own the world

They'll sell you what you need

On languid streets you search for her as you win her in your sleep

Well she leads you on

Well she leads you on

Dream with you

Well she could only dream with you

And the distance keeps her warm

Her letters talk of things she's seen

Her silence what she's learned

Reminisce and drink with them

To hasten her return

Well she forgets you now

Dream with you

Well she could only

Dream with you

And the distance keeps her warm

Dream with you

Well she could only

Dream with you

And the distance keeps her warm

Dream with you

Dream with you

Dream with you

Dream with you
