Girls Aloud, Deadlines & Diets

It's 3am and you still look gorgeous My morning-after feeling's kicking in I hate to say but I'm feeling nauseous I put that down to too much gin

I've seen it before I'll see it again A never ending story of Deadlines, diets, and devious men

Now just when things are going groovy I see the rain clouds coming in Wham-bam my life's a disaster movie But as I'm going down ill grin

I've seen it before (yeah) I'll see it again A never ending story of Deadlines, diets, and devious men
