

Girlyman, Say Goodbye

It's a simple day outside
The sun is the only thing shining
Not a cloud in the sky
No hint of you

I will always regret
Never hearing your best secrets
And your mind with all its witty jokes
Your hand restless, reaching for another smoke

Can you see how I miss you so?
Can't believe your wanting to go
'Cause I just don't know how to make myself
Let you go

And I still can't seem to find
A simple way to say goodbye
I'm not the kind for regret
Was there something I wanted to forget?
Either way you'd already made up your mind

It's a matter of faith
Shut your eyes and believe that it will take
Though it's hard with these doubts, I know with no doubt
That you're resting somewhere great

Can you see how I miss you so?
Can't believe your wanting to go
'Cause I just don't know how to make myself
Let you go

And I still can't seem to find
A simple way to say goodbye
I'm not the kind for regret
Was there something I wanted to forget?
Either way you'd already made up your mind