Gladyss Patches, Two Sense

You were what I thought was a dream
The smile you held was not what it seemed to be

And now I'm blind
Screaming your name
You felt no pain
I fought alone
Now who was to blame?

Time and time again I will try to find my place
Giving all and losing it all was my mistake
She loves me unconditionally because of you
And fades away the thoughts of the pain that I went through
So proud, so proud
Till you walked away
So proud, so proud
And poised

Bleed your lies right into my life
You played god changed my day into night

This love gets away
Surrenders to the pain I give to you
I never wanted anything
Just turn away from me
