

Glasspop, Too Many Reasons

I've climbed too high fell in the swamp of snow
Salvation is at the top

So many times
I floated through and slept on the cold ground of helplessness

Too many reasons
To slide down from the Mount of my dreams Too many reasons fool my heart to give up chilled lips weep

the last scraps of words frozen hands carry the rest of hope

When it's too late to hide
When it's too late to light a fire
I have to move on to survive this night

Too many reasons ....

And when the sun is too close to my wings
Will I fall into the bottom of routine?
And when the wind chills my face

Will you understand me when I can't move my mouth?
Just one step and I'm on the other side
My love will you promise me that we'll be together there ...

Too many reasons ....
Too many reasons
