

Glen Lewis, Fall Again

< Feels like fire, burns in my heart
Every single moment that we spend apart
I need you around for every day to start
I haven't left you alone
Something about you, staring in my eyes
Everything looking for I seem to find
All this time away is killing me inside
I need your love in my life

Oh I wanna spend time till it ends
I wanna fall in you again
Like we did, when we first met
I wanna fall with you again

We fought in a battle, nobody won
Now we face a mountain to be overcome
You can't turn away, the past is said and done
I need us to carry on

You try everything you never thought would work before
When you live, when you love, when you give, when you run
You can always give up some more
Baby nothing means anything
Unless you're here to share with me
I can breathe, I can live, I can die, I can sleep
Cuz you're always there in my dreams >
