

Glenn Kaiser Band, Changin' Wind

sometimes i recall the way it used to be cold september wind, darkness down on me passion that i felt so deep inside mirrors always made me want to hide uphill every day, family just in ruins people livin' for themselves and livin' on excuses life became a one-act misery struggle made a stranger out of me it was a changin' wind, a rearrangin' wind it was a changin', rearrangin' wind it was a changin' wind sometimes i remember just the way it felt blisters in my ragged soul, blowin' in from hell passion that just seemed a ball an' chain that was my life before the Savior came it was a changin' wind, a powerful wind

a rearrangin' wind
